Marion Sewer Rental Ordinance Passed by Council

MEASURE SETS
MINIMUM FEE
OF $4 A YEAR

Adopted by Split Vote of 5 to 4; To Run 5 Years Starting Sept. 1.

Despite a lengthy plea on behalf of a group of Marion citizens in opposition to the sewer rental ordinance last night, city council approved the legislation by a vote of five to four.

The measure provides for the assessment of an annual fee of $4 on all one-family homes connected to the city sewer system, a fee which is also the minimum charge for any connection to the system.

The ordinance will provide funds for the maintenance, operation and control of the sewerage system and treatment works.

The rental fee ordinance will go into effect on Sept. 1.

Other action taken by council last night included:

Passage of an ordinance authorizing the safety-service director to lease an apartment at 135 Sargent street for the superintendent of the city hospital.

Adoption of an ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds in anticipation of the issuance of bonds for poor relief.

Passage of an additional appropriation ordinance.

Passage of legislation providing for the installation of additional parking meters on Church street and Oak street.

Budget Read

In the council caucus before the meeting, Elmer E. Shaw, city auditor, presented the budget for the year 1943. The budget presents an anticipated receipt figure of $33,635 (other than property taxes) of $33,635.

The budget also shows a projected total receipts of $21,815. Disbursements are anticipated at $20,815, including tentative figures of $32,000 for sewerage treatment costs and $10,500 for sewer maintenance and repair.

Mr. Shaw said the budget will be on file at his office and that a public hearing on it is scheduled for ten days from now.

A police petition and proposed ordinance requesting a pay boost of $30 per month for each man on the force was presented at the meeting and was referred to the finance and police committees for consideration and presentation at the next meeting.

Mayor Searle read to council members a letter he received from the regional finance examiner of the federal works agency confirming what he and Mr. McLaughlin of Lima learned in Chicago last week. The letter stated that there was little doubt a federal grant would be forthcoming providing the city furnishes the money for the equipment.

However, he said if the government is to pay all of the expense the project is likely to be a long drawn-out affair and that the government will require title to the land on which the addition is to be built.

Closed Session

Council met with the mayor in a closed session after the meeting to further discuss action and means of raising the funds for purchasing the equipment.

Mayor Searle said details of what is planned will be announced later.

Other details of the sewer rental legislation are as follows:

It authorizes the public service director to "manage and control the sewer system."

In a safe, healthful, economical and efficient manner. He also is empowered to prepare any regulations that may become necessary to accomplish these duties.

The sewer fees are to be collected over a five-year period. Unless rescinded by council five years hence, the fee legislation automatically will expire.

Funds from this source could be used to build extensions of the sewer system. Use of the fund is limited to "payment of the cost and expenses of the management, maintenance, operation and repair of the sewerage system and sewage treatment works."

Any surplus is to be used for the benefit of the city.

For the payment of interest on any debt incurred for the maintenance, operation and construction of the sewer system.

He was graduated in 1938 from Ohio State university after starting for playing on three Buckeye athletic teams. The Harding fall football practice is scheduled to begin Sept. 1.

Marion Man Killed When
Two Trucks Crush Auto

George F. Long, Marion Division Official of Standard Oil Co., Dies in Crash Near Mansfield.

George Frederick Long, 47, of 151 Johnson street, chief clerk for the Marion division of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, was killed instantly about 6:30 a. m. today near Mansfield, when his car was crushed between two large trailer-trucks.

His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Neil Long, 23, of Lorain, the former Miss Mary Lou Sifrit of Marion, is in Mansfield general hospital for treatment of a broken leg, cuts and bruises. Her condition was reported to be fairly good at noon today.

The accident occurred five miles north of Mansfield on U. S. Route 42 in a heavy fog.

On Cleveland Trip
Mr. Long and his daughter-in-law left Marion early this morning on a business trip to Cleveland which he had to make in connection with his job as chief clerk.

A Commercial Motor Freight truck and trailer was parked along the highway with two flat tires and back of it was a small pickup truck sent out to repair the tires. Both were headed north.

According to a state highway patrol report, Mr. Long, driving a Standard Oil Co. car, sideswiped the pickup truck, sending it into the ditch and then crashed into the back of the heavy trailer-truck.

Following Mr. Long was a large Three-C truck and trailer, which crashed into the back of his car, smashing it between the two large vehicles. The Three-C truck overturned.

Killed Instantly
Mr. Long died instantly of a brain concussion, according to Acting Coroner A. C. Biddle of Richmond county.

State patrolmen were four hours getting traffic under control on the highway. During the night one-lane traffic was permitted past the scene of the accident.

When the Three-C truck overturned it dumped onto the highway a full cargo of general merchandise, including tires, machinery, and foodstuffs.

Mrs. Long told officials at the hospital that she didn't know what happened.

J. P. Sharkey, division manager for the Standard Oil Co., said Mr. Long intended to go to Cleveland last night but delayed his trip because of a meeting of the Ohio Credit Union, of which he was secretary.

Veteran Employee
A charter member of the Sohio Quarter Century club, a statewide Standard Oil organization, Mr. Long began his service with the company on July 13, 1913 as a clerk. Subsequently he drove a tank wagon and was a bulk station agent.

In 1930 he was made chief clerk of the division, a position described as probably the most important post in the division office with the exception of one or two executive positions.

In addition to his duties as chief clerk he was exceptionally good at investigating accidents and taking care of accounts. Mr. Sharkey said this morning, and these two phases often took him out into the division territory, comprised of Marion, Wyandot, Crawford, Hardin, Seneca, Morrow, Union and Delaware counties.

Mr. Long was a past president and trustee of the Employees Mutual Benefit association, a state organization of the Standard Oil.

Native of Tiffin
Mr. Long was born at Tiffin on June 1, 1895, son of Joseph and Augusta Zedewitz Long, natives of Baden, Germany. He was two years of age when the family came to Marion.

His marriage to Miss Daphne Longshore took place in Marion on June 18, 1916.

Surviving with the widow are a daughter, Miss Mary Virginia Long of Columbus, two sons, George F. Long Jr., at home, and Neil Long of Lorain and four brothers, Charles and Otto Long of Marion, Lewis Long of Lorain and Joseph Long, former member of The Star advertising staff who is now business manager of the Steubenville, O., Herald-Star, a Brush-Moore newspaper.

The funeral will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. in Emanuel Lutheran church, of which Mr. Long was a member. Rev. M. E. Hollensen will officiate.

Friends may call at the home after noon Wednesday and at the church after 11 a. m. Friday.

VOTE LIGHT IN MARION TODAY

Noon Check Shows Democrats
Doing About 60 Per Cent
of Voting Here.

A checkup at noon today indicated that Marion voters were casting an unusually light vote and that Democrats were doing about 60 per cent of the voting in a county where ordinarily more Republicans than Democrats votes are cast in a primary.

On the basis of noon checkups with several scattered precincts, it appeared today's total vote might run not more than 25 to 30 per cent of the comparable primary four years ago. The Marion county vote four years ago totaled more than 11,000 and was the biggest turnout of voters for a state and county primary in the county's history.

Some precincts checked at noon had only a handful of votes. Precinct A of the Third ward, for example, had only 3 Republican votes and 15 cast by Democrats.

Light Throughout City
In none of the precincts checked was there a large vote as compared to primary.

More Praise Won
by Marion Canteen

A letter from a passenger who sat on the sidelines and saw the appreciation of the soldiers who received a treat from the women's canteen for service men at the Union depot, was received recently by the canteen workers.

The woman, a resident of Wadsworth, was on a train carrying soldiers and sailors which passed through Marion recently. She wrote that she wanted to know how much the soldiers and sailors in our canteen enjoyed the treat from our canteen.

She expressed the belief that each civilian in the canteen decided to contribute more generously to the cause after witnessing the enjoyment the treat gave the men.

Letters are received daily by the canteen workers from soldiers, sailors and other service men who receive a treat during their short stopover here.

REPORT NAZIS
THREATEN RED
NAVAL BASES

Red Star Tells Soldiers Fate of Country Is Being Decided Now.

By The Associated Press
Tank-led German troops were reported imperiling the Red fleet's Black sea naval bases at Novorossiysk and Tuapse deep in the western Caucasus today, while in the north a Vichy broadcast asserted that fighting was in progress within Stalingrad's defense zone.

The broadcast said there were indications that the Germans would shortly launch a general assault on the great Volga river industrial city.

Another Vichy report declared that Nazi columns, striking more than half way down the Caucasus on the road to the Vask Baku oil fields, were advancing on Mordok and Ordzhonikidze.

Mordok lies about 380 miles northwest of Baku and 70 miles above the important Grozny oil center. Ordzhonikidze is 50 miles southwest of Grozny.

Soviet Report
Soviet dispatches acknowledged that the Red armies were falling back from the burning Maikop oil fields and that separate German columns were within 60 miles of the Novorossiysk and Tuapse naval bases as the invaders spread out through the northern foothills of the Caucasus mountains.

"On Edge of Abyss"
As the crisis grew darker by the hour, official Soviet newspapers appealed to the Red armies to save Russia, and Red Star, the army organ, declared:

"The fate of our country is being decided in the violent battles of the Don and the Kuban."

Red Star quoted an 18th century Russian general who told his troops:

"We are surrounded by mountains. We cannot expect help from anybody. We stand on the edge of abyss."

Front-line dispatches said the Germans were showering parachute troops behind the Russian lines near Kotelnikowski, 95 miles below Stalingrad, but said the aerial invaders were being promptly mopped up.

Military advisers pictured the whole region from Kletskaya, 75 miles northwest of Stalingrad, to the south as a land of flames, with the cherry orchards and steep homes of the Cossacks smashed and burning and the skies darkened by mass flights of Nazi planes.

The German high command said the Russians had been thrown back from Maikop into the Caucasus mountains in several sectors, but gave no indication that Nazi spearheads had advanced

Bucyrus Factory Given
War Production Award

Bricker and Naval Captain Heard by Crowd of 2,000 As Ohio
Locomotive Crane Co. Gets "E" Flag.

By LOREN W. TIBBALS
To Crawford county citizens, industry's position in the successful prosecution of World War II today held a new and larger significance.

Both Gov. John W. Bricker and Capt. L. N. Woeller, director of progress control, the state industrial department of the bureau of yards and docks of the navy department, emphasized industry's part in the war in ceremonies at Bucyrus yesterday in which the navy presented the joint army-navy "E" to the Ohio Locomotive Crane Co. for excellence in production of all-essential war materials.

A crowd of 2,000 persons attended the presentation ceremony.

The award is made only to firms producing implements of war for either the army or the navy, and only to those firms whose industrial standards are as high as those of the navy. In other words, in order to obtain the coveted army-navy "E" award for production, industrialists, in their products, must meet the same standards as those of the navy.

The Bucyrus plant, which has been producing cranes for the navy since 1918, is the only plant in the world to produce cranes for the navy.

Board Reduces $55 Monthly
Rental on $800 Marion House

One of Two Families in Property Says $8-a-Week
Quarters Have No Bath, Toilet or Water.

An $800 Sharp street house, bringing in $55 a month rent, had been put to considerable expense, that the renters permitted children to flock around the house, and that the renters didn't keep it in good condition. She said two windows were broken and that they didn't do anything about replacing them. She declared the renters were "making good money" and that the one in the downstairs was sharing his room with his brother who also had a good job. She declared emphatically and loud enough for everyone to hear that the downstairs part of the house amounted, in her opinion, to two men each paying $10 a month for a place to live and declared no rent board could tell her that was too much for them to pay.

When asked about the lack of facilities in the upstairs part, she said she intended to make some improvements there, but her principle answer was that "if they don't like it they can move out." Besides, she said, she made the improvements she wanted the occupants to get out while the work was being done and indicated she probably would look up some new renters after the job was done.

Cities Regulations
When James E. Reed, one of the attorneys for the rent board, pointed out that she is not permitted by federal regulations to make renters move out while she's making repairs that could be made with the renters still in the house, she declared that she couldn't do what she had in mind as long as they were in the rooms.

When he asked her specifically what work she intended to do, she answered heatedly that she didn't have to tell him or anybody else what she intended to do. "Because I earned my money and you ain't got my pocketbook," Mr. Reed answered that he neither wanted nor needed her pocketbook but merely sought to bring out information that would guide the board in its recommendation. When he suggested again the federal regulations might prevent her from making the repairs, she declared that she could remove from the house the furniture that

CURTIN ISSUES
FIRST OFFICIAL
NEWS ACCOUNT

Indicates Allied Gains Outweigh Losses; Supplies of "High Value" Received.

By The Associated Press
GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Aug. 11—The Allied forces which accomplished their planned landings in an air, land and sea-borne attack on the Solomon Islands are under strong Japanese counter-attack, but "we are holding our own," Australian Prime Minister John Curtin announced today.

Curtin said that American Admiral Ernest J. King's Washington announcement yesterday, despite his listing of the loss of one Allied cruiser, sunk and two destroyers, two destroyers and one transport damaged, indicated Allied gains so far have greatly outweighed losses in the struggle that may mark the turning point in the far Pacific conflict.

The prime minister's brief statement, the first word from an official source in Australia on the main operations in the Solomons. Communications issued by General MacArthur's headquarters have dealt only with air support given the invasion thrust directed by Vice Admiral Robert L. Ghormley, supreme commander of Allied naval forces in the South Pacific area.

Third Assault Reported
Today's communique told of a third destructive assault in "a many days upon Rabaul, main Japanese tank base in New Britain, and attacks on Japanese shipping below Timor, more than 2,000 miles to the west, in which a heavy destroyer and two merchant ships were knocked out."

It also was disclosed that Australian land forces were not involved in the Solomon Islands attack, but that Australian naval units participated and Australian air forces were cooperating in the increasingly desperate attacks on Japanese bases.

A dispatch from an advanced base said that the attack at Timor was carried out at low level by Australian-manned bombers.

"My bombers made a nasty hole in a 4,000-ton ship," said an Australian flight lieutenant. "After bombing I machinegunned the target and I saw Japs diving through a hell of bombs and bullets into the sea from the deck and from every other hole they could find."

One of the ships was seen sinking nose first.

Enemy Forced Out
In the Kokoda sector of New Guinea, the headquarters announcement said, Allied forces strongly engaged the enemy yesterday forced him to withdraw from prepared positions.

This was a variation from previous announcements of patrol activity in this theater on the Papuan peninsula 60 miles east of the Allied base at Port Moresby.

An Australian government spokesman disclosed that shipments of supplies of "highest possible value" that would "revolutionize offensive operations in the north" were landed recently in Australia.

"Supplies are constantly coming in," said the spokesman, who gave much credit to the negotiators who recently conducted a Washington-Bahia, V. E. Evans, Australian attorney general, and minister of external affairs.

In three or four months Australia already has had results of Evans' visit in the arrival of all kinds of such as army equipment, war materials and tanks," the spokesman said.

Of Timor, the allied bombers hit a Japanese merchant vessel twice, probably sinking it, and set afire in addition to damaging the destroyer badly.

The land fighting reported by the navy late yesterday to be "still in progress," appeared to be centered on Tulagi and Guadalcanal islands, which lie 300 miles northeast of Australia.

Other ground actions were under way in New Guinea, where the Allies pushed back the Japanese in the Kokoda area.

The Japanese were known to have concentrated heavy forces in the theater's Solomons, and despite an initial surprise by the Allied landing forces, Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief

SECOND-FRONT TALK GROWS IN EUROPE

Nazi Firing Squads Take 100 More Lives.

By The Associated Press
Second-front talk increased in Europe's conquered nations today as Nazi firing squads took nearly 100 more lives and the Germans clamped down with ruthless new measures to prevent an uprising in the event of an allied invasion of Europe.

Ninety-three Frenchmen were executed in Paris and at least six Czechs in old Czech-Slovakia, the latter on charges of "high treason and favoring the enemy."

France seemed with bitter unrest. Roundabout reports from Vichy said pro-German French of Pierre Laval had called up police and troop reinforcements to protect the hated Vichy regime against a rumored coup d'etat.

Simultaneously, the Dutch news agency Aneta quoted Swiss reports that the Germans had seized 200 more Dutch hostages to be "held responsible with their lives for the conduct of the Netherlands people in the event of a British invasion of Holland."

More than 1,500 prominent Dutch clergymen, physicians and business men had previously been taken as hostages by the Germans, Aneta said, in their attempt to forestall a bloody revolt when the Allies attempt to open a second front in western Europe.

Dispatches from Bern, Switzerland, said the Germans had threatened reprisals against every man, woman and child in occupied France as an aftermath of new anti-Nazi outbreaks which sent the 93 more Frenchmen to their deaths before German firing squads.

The German military commander in Paris was quoted as threatening to "take measures for which the whole population will suffer," unless those responsible for "attacks on German soldiers were brought to light."

Underground reports from Belgium and Holland told of new preparations by the Germans against a possible allied invasion. One report said high Nazi officers in Belgium had been authorized to apply the torch to everything in sight if the Germans were forced to retreat before allied armies.

Other dispatches said the Nazis in Holland had begun organizing a Dutch home guard because of the allied invasion threat, while in Norway, new trouble was brewing as the notorious Vidkun Quisling, Nazi-installed premier, ordered the dissolution of the provisional church council organized by dissident bishops.

Boy in Custody Here Swallows Iodine

A 14-year-old Pennsylvania youth was picked up in the Erie railroad yards over the week-end by a railroad detective, early last evening swallowed a small vial of iodine at the detention home.

Taken to City hospital, he responded to treatment of corn starch and this morning his condition was good.

Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast, who went to the hospital, said he learned the boy had said the iodine was to treat a foot bruise. Apparently he changed his mind after swallowing the antiseptic, for when it began to burn his stomach he made a commotion which brought detention home attendants to his quarters immediately.

Judge Gast said the boy's mother, who lives in North Girard, Pa., had been contacted and was sending money to have the boy returned to his home.

Match Factory Strikes Enter Second Day

By The Associated Press
AKRON, O., Aug. 11—Strikes at two match factories entered the second day today as Dr. John R. Steelman, director of conciliation for the U. S. department of labor, urged employees to return to their jobs.

Spokesmen for the United match workers union (AFL) said members struck yesterday at the Ohio Match Co., Wadsworth, and the Diamond Match Co., Barberton, because the concerns refused to grant wage increases and closed shops.

Some 900 Ohio Match employees and 800 at the Diamond plant struck simultaneously, union leaders said, to enforce demands for a 15-cent increase in the 58- to 60-cent hourly rates.

TALK OF BOOST IN STEEL PRICES HEARD

Deadlocked Negotiations Are Headed for WLB.

By The Associated Press
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 11—Renewed talk of a drive for higher steel prices was heard today as deadlocked contract negotiations between the CIO United Steel Workers union and five principal operating subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation headed for the national war labor board.

Formal announcement of the parley's breakdown came last night. Later the labor board disclosed that Jesse Freidman, mediator, will meet here today with CIO president Philip Murray and J. A. Stephens, director of industrial relations for "Big Steel" to discuss procedure for handling their dispute.

Both sides said they expected no interruption in operations. The union asked the corporation to grant demands recommended recently by the labor board in the "Little Steel" case involving Republic, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Bethlehem and Inland steel companies. These included a 44 cents a day pay raise retroactive to last February 6, a checkoff of union dues and maintenance of union shop.

Few following the "Big Steel" negotiations closely had believed from their start on July 31 an agreement would develop on at least two big issues without governmental intervention—retroactive pay, involving almost $15,000,000 of "Big Steel" money, and the elimination of sectional rate differentials. The difference was not decided in the "Little Steel" case.

STRIKERS RECONSIDER PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11—Philadelphia transportation company workers voted to strike early today aimed at crippling the transit network of the nation's third city—then in a stormy eleven-hour meeting reconsidered and rejected their wage dispute to the war labor board.

A leading juvenile actress in the silent picture days, and later the heart interest in western thrillers, Dorothy Langdon now works in a Detroit war plant, inspecting airplane parts. With her husband in the army, the 26-year-old former actress, known as "Baby Dorothy Phelps" during her early screen career, became tired of "just playing and doing nothing" and went to work to do her part in the war effort.

Naval Officer Awaits Court Martial Outcome

By The Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11—Lieut. Comdr. Maurice N. Aroff today awaited formal announcement of the findings of a six-man naval court martial which tried him on seven charges of misconduct and falsehood, one of which accused him of accepting a $950 automobile from Tony Martin to facilitate the singer's enlistment.

The procedure of naval courts provides that only decisions of innocence are announced, since a decision of guilty must go to Washington for review. The courtroom was cleared last yesterday and Aroff was not notified that he had been found innocent of any of the charges.

Writer Warns Of Undue Optimism in Pacific News

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Word that "we are holding our own" in the Solomon Islands in the face of strong Japanese counter-attacks carries us as far as we are entitled to venture in our eagerness to figure out how the battle goes for Uncle Sam's fighting forces which are staging out a major offensive.

This brief report comes from Australian Premier John Curtin. We shall be well-advised not to try to read into it more than it indicates, namely, that we are getting on with the job, and that the enemy resistance was heavy. The business-like official account thus far rendered by Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in Chief of the United States fleet, provides us with an excellent model of restraint.

There's one thing we shouldn't overlook in Admiral King's account—his statement that "considerable losses, such as are inherent in any offensive operation, must be expected. Presumably by 'losses' he refers to both men and equipment.

Hard as it is, it's well that we adjust ourselves now to the certainty that there will be a casualty list. And we should recognize, too, that as the war progresses such lists will grow in length.

The amphibious operation which we are carrying out is one of the most difficult and dangerous which war provides.

The land fighting thus far reported seems to have been centered on the islands of Tulagi and Guadalcanal.

However, while these two dots in the sea appeared to be the storm center, the operations spread throughout the whole area comprising the Solomons, the Bismarck Archipelago and New Guinea, for General MacArthur's allied warplanes were hitting here, there and everywhere.

This offensive seems to be aimed at driving the enemy out from strongholds which lie across our direct communication with Australia and which provide the Japanese with bases for attack on that country.

In the battle of the Don river bend, before Stalingrad, the Nazi command asserted that Marshal Semenov's defenders were "driven" together in a narrow space where they faced annihilation.

To the north, in the Rzhev sector, 130 miles west of Moscow, the Germans acknowledged that they were fighting a "heavy defensive battle" with the Red army, newly reinforced, press ing a strong attack.

New Opening
At mid-day, after bitter all-night fighting, Red army headquarters conceded that the Nazis had broken through a gap in the Russian line near Rzhev, 180 miles beyond Moscow.

Huge smoke clouds and explosions indicated that the Russians had destroyed the Maikop fields, which produced seven per cent of Russia's oil in their retreat.

Soviet dispatches said the Germans were paying a terrible price in their drive against Stalingrad, listing 2,800 Nazis killed in a single sector, near Katskaya, 75 miles northwest of the Volga steel city.

Another 900 Germans were reported, left dead on the battlefield, amid "very tense" fighting near Kotelnikovsky, 95 miles south of Stalingrad.

Meanwhile, U. S. Ambassador Admiral William H. Standley said in Moscow that the Russians had three lines of defense—the present one, the Volga and the Dniepr—while the Germans have not yet reached the Volga.

Ambassador Standley said he had found "not the slightest indication that the Russians had any idea of quitting."

In Egypt
In the battle of Egypt, Italian field headquarters reported increased air and ground activity as Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck's imperial British armies held Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's invaders at bay on the El Alamein front, 75 miles west of Alexandria.

British communiques said RAF planes attacked enemy desert encampments, transport and shipping.

Hospital Shelled
German night raiders scattered fire bombs and high-explosives over East Anglia and southeast England, killing at least 12 patients and staff members in a mental asylum. Berlin said the main targets were Hastings on the English channel and Colchester, 50 miles northeast of London.

INDIA

in where police strength seemed inadequate to cope with expected outbreaks.

From Bombay on the west coast to Calcutta on the east coast came reports of demonstrations, hartals (the closing of stores) and goondas (rowdies) as the call for a total shutdown of trade spread to Mohandas K. Gandhi's turbulent followers with a promise from their leaders that the strike would be "honest" in what they called their "honest struggle" against British rule.

Virtual Powderkeg
Police said the slightest spark might lead off rioting between the sub-continent's opposing religious groups, Hindus and Moslems.

Two days of rioting already had brought the death toll in Bombay alone to 15—all Indians shot attacking police or attempting to destroy suburban railroad stations or grain warehouses.

There were new demonstrations this morning in the Dadar, Bori and Matunga sections of the city. Bombing was started in the streets and fed with hats, neckties and other articles of European clothing snatched from passersby.

Police opened fire twice when mobs set fire to a wooden police guard post and attempted to halt traffic.

The first hysterical shouting crowds of the week-end, when the adamant All-India congress committee made Gandhi's demand of non-cooperation drive for immediate independence and Britain countered by arresting him and his high command, had begun to dwindle.

There was no sign of a general abatement, however, as soldiers and armed police stood guard in five Indian centers and some official opinion was less hopeful that strong-handed methods would quiet the Indian zealots.

Scattered Violence
A crowd at Parel burned park benches. Some persons were injured when police fired to break up the mob.

Stores closed at Karachi, and in a Calcutta heavy-industry district workers of bullock carts quit work.

Students quit colleges in such university towns as Bombay, Nagpur and Bangalore.

Police, wary against the possibility of Hindu-Muslim riots, said the slightest incident might set off this sort of strife.

On a previous occasion a Moslem beggar kicked a dog; a Hindu policeman kicked the beggar, and it started an 18-day communal riot in which many were killed, said a Bombay police official.

"Aga" a Moslem child, thirty days of nearly rioting followed.

Three months of rioting with many deaths came after a Moslem storekeeper refused to sell a certain piece of goods to a Hindu.

He pointed out that Hindu students already had thrown rocks at Moslem shops in Bombay.

In Lucknow Moslem shops remained open while Hindu stores practiced "hartal."

RESCUE SQUADS HUNT FOR TWELVE IN DEBRIS

Body of One Uncovered in Milwaukee Warehouse.

By The Associated Press
MILWAUKEE, Aug. 11—Germans strewn rescue squads, fighting their way inch by inch through tons of broken glass and debris, uncovered today the body of one of the 12 men believed to have died when a warehouse collapsed in suburban Wauwatosa.

Frank Dreyer, warehouse employee, identified the body as that of William Schaefflich, 47, of Milwaukee.

The glare of floodlights fell hundreds of the sweating rescue workers, who slowly worked their way through the debris, uncovering the body of one of the 12 men believed to have died when a warehouse collapsed in suburban Wauwatosa.

Police Chief Louis Wrasse said there was practically no hope that any of the men would be found alive.

Nineteen other men who were working in the building were seen on one of the top floors of the collapsed structure, but they were not seen. Six were treated at hospitals, but the others were unhurt.

William R. Ross, a Schlitz official, said recent rains might have undermined the foundation, but brought about its collapse.

CLEVELAND STRIKE CLOSES TWO PLANTS

Warplane Parts Shops, Shuts Down by Walkout.

By The Associated Press
CLEVELAND, Aug. 11—A work stoppage by 4,000 employees today shut down the two plants of the Cleveland Graphite Bronze Co., makers of warplane parts, and William Block, an agent for the Mechanics Education Society of America, said the employees had walked off the job at both plants in protest against "the company's arbitrary action on iron-clad rules." He said the two factories employ 5,000, about two-thirds of them women.

The work stoppage, third in less than a month at Graphite Bronze, "completely shut down operations," Bullock added. A two-member war labor board panel had opened a hearing on union grievances here only yesterday.

Union officials said the principal issue was the recent charge of 21 workers. The company declared the men were discharged for taking unauthorized time off, incompetence and reporting for work in an unfit condition. The union contended the men were fired for union activities.

Other grievances include a proposed shift from piece work to day work and revision of room wage rates.

Cong. Smith Assails Federal Spending Not Needed for War

Declares in Talk To Lions Club That Million Non-Essential Employees Should Be Dropped.

When Frederick C. Smith, in a talk Monday to the Marion Lions Club, declared that the federal government is spending too much money on non-essential services and that it should drop a million non-essential employees, he was not alone in his opinion. He said that the federal government is spending too much money on non-essential services and that it should drop a million non-essential employees.

Bucyrus Factory Gets Award

Reinheimer, erection shop foreman and an employee of the firm for 32 years, received the first award. Capt. H. G. Taylor, superintendent of the firm, also received an award.

The award was presented by the U.S. Navy. The firm has been recognized as one of the "front line" producers.

In conclusion he referred to the battles of Midway, Coral Sea and the recent South Sea engagements.

As special delegate of Frank Knox, secretary of the navy, Capt. Moeller officiated for the presentation of the "E" flag to company officers.

In his preliminary speech he said the bluejackets out on the Pacific today, sweating in the gun turrets of our fighting ships are concentrating on making every shot go straight and true, not on the larger aspects of the war.

Likewise, he said, the same is true of men on the production front. "We are too close to the war," he said.

"Yet, every day as you put forth your utmost effort in the performance of your tasks you are earning a place in history as surely as the men who fly bombers over Tokyo. When future historians are writing, they will record 'America's' armaments for World War II will be recorded as the most spectacular single feat in a spectacular history."

"Hitler prepared for this war for eight long years," he continued. "His military successes are no accident. They are the result of a decade of complete industrial mobilization. Year after year, by day and by night, the mighty war factories of the great Ruhr valley industrial area poured forth endless streams of bombers and tanks. And what were we doing all the while? Turning out toys, cheap jewelry and better refrigerators."

America's Production "And then, two years ago, America awakened. Two short years ago, we started out to do in a few months for all the decades what Germany had done in eight years. We had Germany's tremendous head-start to overcome, but that was not all. We also had to overcome a blind and blisful national complacency. The people, the government, industry, all were completely ignorant of the meaning of total war. Everyone thought America could arm itself in its spare time with one hand tied behind its back," he declared.

"What we had to learn," he claimed, "was that we had to start from scratch. We came to realize humbly that our fullest efforts with our existing facilities would leave us comparatively unprepared to meet the enemy. We had to strain every plant to the utmost and expand present plants and build new plants and shipyards."

"Are we succeeding?" he questioned. Answering his own question, Capt. Moeller said, "History will record the glorious answer. Our production, measured by the standards of a few years ago, is amazing. Bombers that took a month to build a year ago now require but a single day. Cargo ships that took 105 months to build a year ago now take 45."

Hay Fever Blitz Launched Against Allergic Workers

Opposes Rental Fee

Walter Moore, speaking for "the 2,146 citizens of Marion who two years ago signed petitions in objection to the sewer rental measure when it originally came up," voiced the plea that council consider adopting a bond issue to solve the problem instead of the rental fee plan.

Mr. Moore said they were not opposed to securing funds for the sewerage treatment work or repair project, but that the rental fee method of securing them was not approved.

He said he was of the opinion

He will remain on indefinitely in the health post, it was announced. Drungenbolt of Forest is expected to be inducted in the very near future. Dr. Drungenbolt, junior physician in the Forest vicinity, placed his application for enlistment several weeks before Dr. Holtzmueller put his application in. ## REQUESTS ELIMINATION OF WIRE NON-ESSENTIALS

Selly Urges Cutting of Frills in Messages

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Telephone messengers should confine themselves to delivering telegrams, not singing them, says Joseph P. Selly.

Furthermore, they shouldn't be called on to take the dog out on a walk or make a fourth at bridge.

Selly, who is president of the American communications association, demands the immediate elimination of such services on the ground they constitute a serious impediment to wartime communications.

"The telegraph industry is a war industry," he wrote in a letter to Chairman James L. Fly of the federal communications commission in which he cited alleged instances of official messages being delayed for many hours.

"Over its circuits travel messages which make possible our whole complex manufacturing and distributing systems. No impediments should be permitted to hold telegraph operations during wartime below the maximum level of efficiency.

"The most obvious impediment to achievement of a maximum level of efficiency for wartime communications is continued handling of fixed-test messages, dog-walking, singing telegrams and other non-essential services."

Both Western Union and Postal Telegraph spokesmen, when approached on the matter, said special services never were allowed to interfere with other messages.

Case Closed.

ELECTROCUTION of six of the eight German
saboteurs sent to the United States secretly
to do damage and imprisonment of the other two closer their case. It is a certainty that the possibility of further sabotage has not been closed.

Capture of the eight saboteurs was a tribute
to the alertness of a coast guardman and the
tenacity of the federal bureau of investigation.
But it was also a pointed reminder that the United States with its long coastline is especially vulnerable to a maneuver that almost succeeded.

No one has doubted from the outset of the war
that Germany would try to do at least as much damage as it did in World war 1. No one doubted that it was better organized to do damage in this country than it was then. The capture of the eight saboteurs merely confirmed
what was expected.

There will be more saboteurs. There will need to be more alert coast guardmen, more aggressive work by the FBI, a general tightening
of precautions. Throughout this war Germany's intended victims have made one tragic mistake;
they have underestimated Germany's ruthlessness
will to destroy its enemies by all means available. The United States cannot afford to rest
on its laurels merely because it has disposed of eight German saboteurs. There will be many more to dispose of before the war is over.

By Way of Illustration

THE assorted trials and triumphs of James C.
Petrillo and the juke box industry have a tendency to seem picaresque in times like
these, but it is evident that the old natural law
of the pebble and ripples when the pebble is
dropped in the water still stands.

According to Billboard, trade paper in the amusement industry, Mr. Petrillo's efforts to get more for 8,000 union musicians by stopping
production of popular recordings for counter-operated phonographs would put 20,000 persons
out of work, if he went far enough.

There is another natural law, observed mainly
in the breach these days, about what happens
when anyone gets into a position to create a bottleneck in free enterprise. What happens is that he causes so many headaches in so many unexpected places that he, in turn, is given
a headache for his trouble. Mr. Petrillo, like Mr. Gandhi and the little boy who set fire
to the fireworks stand, has started something
he may wish he could stop when the repercussions start popping.

Today's Second Front Thought

FROM the closest point where a second front
might be opened with United States aid in Europe to the closest point where a second front
might be opened in Asia is half the distance
around the world — but in each case Russia
would be relieved.

A second front in Europe, theorists contend,
would cause Germany to withdraw troops from
its Russian front, while a second front in Asia
would make it unnecessary for Russia to im-
mobilize hundreds of thousands of troops on its Japanese front.

Since a Japanese attack on Russia is regarded by theorists as inevitable and since British
sources have reported a huge Japanese force
poised to strike from Manchuria at any moment,
it must be regarded as a certainty that strate-
gists are considering the possibilities of a second front in Asia. If Japan had not succeeded in shutting off China and Russia from United States supplies—if Japan could be made a liability instead of an asset to Germany—the complexion of the war would be infinitely better than it is now.

Keep the Record Straight

MRS. ROOSEVELT, with whom the American
Communists have tried to claim friendship,
slapped them down the other day with a statement that she had no use for foreign-controlled political parties in the United States. All of which is another reminder that the Communists,
if they really want to help Russia, should shut
up for the duration. Certainly they have no right to criticize the United States and Great Britain for not rushing to Russia's rescue day
after tomorrow.

When Great Britain and France were joining forces to state off Germany, Russia made an alliance with Germany and participated in the attack on Poland. Russia was furnishing war material to Germany in 1940 when France was vanquished and the battle of Britain was at the height of its fury. Russia did not come into the war until it was attacked; Russia still is at peace with the other formidable member of the Axis, Japan. These facts do not alter the desirability of engaging Germany more fully to hasten its defeat. They do emphasize, however, that Russia's busy-bee friends in this country are in no position to be critical of anything except their own turncoatism.

Racial Feeling Seen As Cause of India's Revolt
Against Only Nation That Could Free Her.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Racial
feeling—an all-time bitter,
and, according to some political
analysts, a more potent force than any other in the world—has been
the dominant factor in the Indian revolution. Both Nehru and Gandhi have rather openly admitted this in their recent statements.

American observers, returning
from India recently, have complained they could not understand the increasing hostility of Nehru and Gandhi for the cause of world
freedom when they wanted their own.

Independence for India is possible only if the Anglo-American world cause wins. Otherwise, such a defenseless nation would naturally pass under the dominance
of its nearest axis neighbor, in this case Japan.

Obviously then, some inspiration, other than a desire for freedom, must have made the Indian leaders reject the full promises of independence from the British in favor of a policy which would bring them under Japanese
control, it is felt.

The statements of Nehru and Gandhi finally complaining against racial discrimination, show what
that inspiration was.

For a parallel you must recall
British experience in adjoining Burma. There many Burmese
foolishly chose to fight with the yellow hordes from Japan and
delivered themselves enthusiastically
into the Japanese noose.

Such a course, frenzied in its
hatred, naturally does not make sense from any standpoint. This is not a racial war, China and
the Philippines are on our side,
or rather we are on theirs. The Indian politicians, and the Burmese, will realize their mistake
when we win this war, although
it may be late then.

Meanwhile, it makes the Indian
situation dangerous.

Lindbergh
A critical reader has challenged
my inclusion of Lindbergh, along
with Doolittle and Admiral Byrd,
as types of cool men of scientific
action needed in the forefront of
our war effort.

"I can go along with your mention of Doolittle and possibly Byrd, but Lindbergh is a great disappointment to most Americans
and has done more to create dis-
sentiment than most people," he wrote.

Lindbergh is one of the worst
politicians who ever floated a political blimp—and one of the greatest aviation technicians this nation has produced. Like most other men who are great on one

subject, he is truly a disappointment outside his field.

But we do not need politicians
to win this war. That is one class
for which no manpower draft is necessary, and one in which
prevailing surplus covaries the necessity of priorities.

I would not care what Lind-bergh's beliefs were before the war, if he could help win it. I would put him where he could do
the most damage to Hitler and
the Japs.

But, incidentally, I did not say Lindbergh as a person was indispensable to our war effort. I said we should get all the men of
such a type who can do things,
the men who think ahead of the
crowd in their field, the ingenious,
alert and daring technicians on
the army and navy reserve lists
or on the sidelines in the business
fields for political reasons or others—let pre-war byones be byones—and put these men into
positions where their special aptitudes can be used to the utmost
to win this war.

Dependency Pay

The army and navy have informed congress it should not pass the Rankin bill allowing dependents of fighting men to get their living allowance (due since June 1) now instead of Nov. 1,
the day before the congressional election. Bookkeeping is holding them up and if payments were
made as cases are completed,
reverse men would be discriminated against, they said.

Thus twiddle-dum informs
twiddle-dee they were both right
in the first place—that the day
before the election is the only time
to pay in one lump sum the five months arrears due all wives and children of service men. They plead "discrimination" and "book-
keeping" for failing to provide authorized food for persons prepared to need it—for five months,
thus indicating they need some
new bookkeepers.

I have a feeling that if Aug.
15 happened to be election day,
the war department, navy and the
congress would suddenly start
thinking about how these wives
and children are going to live
without the living allowance now
overdue. In that case, I suspect
the bookkeeping would be done
faster.

If it is not done faster and the payment of Nov. 1 is kept, a lot
of hungry wives and irate soldiers for having provided the allowances—at least not grateful
enough to vote for their re-election.

Need Seen for Full Exercise of Nelson's Authority To Control War Material Flow.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE situation in which Mr. Nelson now finds himself was
foreseen and predicted last January by Mr. Lippmann and by some members of congress who had studied closely what was going on in Washington. They were saying then, if I may reprint my
own reflection of their views,
that in order to do his task Mr.
Nelson will have to give "orders
to the procurement branches of the army and navy, to loan establishments operated by Secretary Jones, to the maritime commission, to sections of the state
department, and to many agencies. He will, for example, have to have a lot to say about the specifications which the military services set, and probably also
their testing requirements; for it is generally known, I think, that
some of the specifications come
down from an era when there was no shortage of anything. A great deal of rank and authority
will be needed by Mr. Nelson if he is to deal with matters of this sort. He will need to outrank legally, politically, symbolically, the procurement officials whom he is supposed to direct. And since
so much, indeed everything is at stake on the success or failure of Mr. Nelson's work, there seems to be but one thing to do—to
press on and to ask the President and congress to take up immediately the project of putting a firm foundation under Mr. Nelson by creating a statutory department of supply with full
cabinet rank."

These views did not prevail,
and Mr. Nelson was launched upon
his difficult task equipped
with executive order 8024, the
most resounding omphibious declaration of power ever pronounced
and war production that could be put into words. Mr. Nelson was
to "determine" policies, plans,
procedure and methods of all the
departments and agencies concerned with supplies and their production, all the departments
and agencies were to "comply"
with what Mr. Nelson would "determine."

Lack of Authority
But actually the system remained essentially what it had always been in that the officers
who let the war contracts were not responsible to Mr. Nelson.
They were not to be exercised by Mr. Nelson or in some
other way. The over-all control
and direction of war procure-
ment and war production is the
only conceivable way in which
the most efficient use can be
made of limited supply of materials. Mr. Nelson has vast pow-
ers. But they are sleeping powers.

Use of Power Urged

Thus we have come to the time
when the powers delegated to Mr. Nelson will have to be exercised by Mr. Nelson or in some
other way. The over-all control
and direction of war procure-
ment and war production is the
only conceivable way in which
the most efficient use can be
made of limited supply of materials. Mr. Nelson has vast pow-
ers. But they are sleeping pow-
ers.

Our English Cousins Want To Know Us

By William B. King.

ENGLAND'S average man, who
in pre-war years dismissed
the United States as one of the colonies that got away, is trying
hard now to understand the country across the sea that suddenly
has become a vital ally.

Schools that formerly taught American history only in its bare
relationships with developments
in British history are delving into
the facts of the independent development of the United States.
Study groups and societies have turned their attentions to visualizing and understanding the American scene. Educational of-

that private soldiers place lectures and books on the United States high on their lists of preferences.

Salute Horatio

He and His Missus Are Doing
Swell Job on Our Civilian Defense; They Deserve Credit.

By DAMON RUNYON

RUNYON BYLINE TO GO

I THINK I will now pin a small geranium
in commendation on Mr. Horatio P. C... for his attitude in this war. He is doing a swell job of his long career. I am proud him and of his Civilian, too. I speak of the
of course, as representatives of our entire
Civilian family, known as the civilian population.
In times like these, some ladies and gentlemen around beefing their heads off about
way things are being run and doing nothing
to help the war effort. If you encounter any of that kind you are apt to become somewhat discouraged. But if you look into the situation you soon discover that they are great
in the minority and that the civilian population generally is on the jump.

I hold that persons who criticize and de-
bunk the war effort of their neighbors while doing nothing themselves should be informed for duration. I agree that some of the efforts
the neighbors may occasionally border on ridiculous, but they get good mark in my book just the same for sp-
I respect all those who are trying.

THIS is not the first war in which United States has been engaged that required the cooperation of the civilian population, but it is the first in which that population as a whole might be said to be potentially active participants. Some sections of country heard the tramp of the invader
nearly all our wars and in those instances
members of the civilian population were passive onlookers. In this war that population may be an essential element of ac-
defense.

It may encounter bombings and perhaps
vision against which it must battle as deperately as the military. Thus, it is given great satisfaction to observe that Mr. and Mrs. C... Civilian have volunteered and training in the cause of defense to the number of millions all over this nation.

In the city of New York alone, as I advised by Julius G. Berens, director of P
lic relations of the civilian defense, volunteers, more than 300,000 men, women
young girls and boys have enrolled and
working on their own time after office
school and factory hours to perfect themselves in the details of guarding their home land.

They do everything from patrolling to clerical and messenger work for almost every
of a community's activities in war time. I include auxiliary firemen, nurses' aides, automatic patrolmen, air wardens, and welfare
hospital workers. They have to work hard
put in long hours. Some of these volunt-
put in 50 and 60 hours a week on their
fence jobs.

THE story is the same all over the United States. Mr. Berens estimates that betw-
nine and ten millions of citizens are working as civilian defense volunteers today. The
I am inclined to think he is too conserva-
But in any event, they are a body of w-
the nation may well be grateful. It has d-
demonstrated in other countries that civ-
defense is as important as any other war
fort and our own workers in that field sh-
be given all encouragement and thanks.

I hope they may never be called upon
meet the test for which they are prepar-
But if they are I think from my observa-
of the men and women in the CDVO they meet it in the same high spirit of courage
patriotism that has led them to sacrifice t-
time and comfort to be of service to t-
country in an hour of peril. I say thank
the members of the CDVO. God bless u-

Chicago White Sox Defeat Indians; Yanks, Bosox Open Crucial Series

Chubby Dean Allows Pale Hose Five Hits, Tribe Gets 11—Lose 3-1.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 11—There doesn't seem to be much the Boston Red Sox or anybody else can do to catch the New York Yankees, but the Red Sox got another chance today to show them down.

As the Red Sox moved into Yankee Stadium for a three-game set, they clung to second place in the American league by a lone percentage point but they trailed the defending champions by 13 lengths.

Although the Yankees divided a double-header with the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday, they lacked a full game to their lead with the help of the Washington Senators, who swept a night twin bill from the Red Sox, and the Chicago White Sox, who whipped Cleveland again.

It enabled the White Sox to step into fifth place.

The Senators pounded Oscar Judd and Mace Brown for 11 hits in taking the first game from the Red Sox, 8-2, last night, but the second game was a pitching duel in which Walt Masterson of the Senators triumphed over Joe Dobson, 4-0, although the Nats were outlasted, 5 to 4.

The Athletics tripped the Yankees and Red Ruffing, 4-1, but Ernie Bonham pitched the champs to a 3-2 decision in the nightcap.

In the National league, the Brooklyn Dodgers blanked the Philadelphia Phils, 6-0, in a two-night affair and increased their lead to nine games over the St. Louis Cardinals, who went down before the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-4, in the only other contest on the day's card.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 11—Having absorbed three beatings in Chicago, the Tribe returns to the Wigwam tonight for a twilight night double bill with the Detroit Tigers. And if Al Mumar and Vernon Kennedy should turn in victories, the Red Sox would find themselves in second place.

Although the Indians lost to the Chicago last night, 3 to 1, they gained a half game on the Boston Red Sox, who dropped two to Washington.

Failure to hit when teammates were on the sacks caused Cleveland's defeat last night. The Indians collected 11 hits off Johnny Humphries while Chubby Dean held the pale hose to five.

The third inning, in which the Red Sox scored their only run, was indicative of their difficulty in getting hitters home.

Row Weatherly opened the session with a double to left, and advanced one base on Oris Hockett's high fly which fell for another double behind third base. Kenny Keltner fled out to short center, both men holding their positions, and then Weatherly scored and Hockett reached third on Jeff Heath's infield out. Les Fleming was called out on strikes to end the inning.

Chicago scored in the second on a walk, a long single and an infield out in the fifth Dean forced in a marker by walking. Wally Moses after the bags were loaded on two singles and a pass. The Chisox' third run came in the seventh session on Bob Kennedy's second single of the night, a sacrifice, an infield out and Kenny Keltner's low throw to first which permitted Kennedy to cross the plate with an unearned tally.

Coca-Cola Extends Commercial League Win Streak To 13 Games; Defeats Moose

The Coca-Cola entry in the Commercial softball league streaked to 13 consecutive victory string to 13 games last night, downing the Moose lodge team 5-2 on the two-hit pitching of the veteran Coxe Wells.

Coca-Cola scored one run in the last of the first inning to jump to an early lead. Moose scored twice in the first half of the fourth frame on a home run by Frank Terzo to take command, but it was short lived as the eventual winners uncorked a four-run rally in their half of the inning. Neither team scored in the final two innings.

The Smith Clothing Co. nine continued its bid for league honors downing the War Department team. Howard Gilbert allowed the losers four hits, while his mates collected only three off Verrigan, the losing moundman. Juntun-Conky No. 1 scored a 7-1 win over the DeMolay team in an exhibition contest. Because of ineligibility of two players, all games played by the Juntun-Conky team are immediately forfeited. ## BLUES RETAIN HOLD ON FIRST PLACE IN ASSOCIATION RACE

Split Double-Header with Columbus Red Birds; Saints Lose, 3-1.

By The Associated Press
It's a tight fit, but Kansas City still had the driver's seat in the American association today after halving a double-header with Columbus.

The Blues dropped the opener 5 to 4, but boomed back in the second with an 8 to 7 decision in an extra inning to keep the Red Birds out of first place.

Red Muegge got his 12th win of the season in pitching the Blues to victory on a five-hit performance. The Birds, meanwhile, dusted off Johnny Johnson in the first inning for three runs on five hits, including Eddie Lukon's 16th homer of the season, and never were headed thereafter.

The second game was marked by an argument between Manager Johnny Neun of the Blues and Manager Eddie Dyer over a decision which nearly brewed up some fistfuffs. The Blues captured a 7-4 lead after pushing across four runs in the sixth, but in the seventh, Pitchers Red Barrett and Harry Brecheen became wild and the Blues tied the score.

In the extra eighth inning, Ed Levy sent a long fly to Lukon to score Leo Nonnenkamp' fourth with the payoff run. Brecheen was charged with the loss, snapping his chain of 10 straight wins.

Louisville cracked St. Paul 3 to 1 in a tight mound duel between the Colonels' Lou Lucier and Lefty Dick Latham. Each pitcher permitted five hits. Minneapolis stayed only a step behind the leaders by trimming Indianapolis 9 to 3.

ed out, is no different from the process used in salvaging rubber for retreading automobile tires since the material involved in both instances is the same.

Most of the reclaim rubber is used for the hollow molded rubber spheres which are the cores of regulation tennis balls. The remainder goes into production of cements necessary in the manufacture.

Difference in Bounce
Icely explained a tennis ball consists of the hollow molded rubber ball, to which is vulcanized two dumb-bell shaped pieces of woven or knitted wool felt. The base and edges of the felt are cemented to the molded center to give a bonded unit. This rubber center is molded in halves, which are cemented and vulcanized to the felt application.

The principal difference between a tennis ball made of reclaim rubber and one made of virgin rubber, he said, is a slight decrease in bounce on the part of the reclaimed rubber ball. As well as the center, does not have the resilience of the virgin rubber, and in some cases tends to crack and separate sooner.

There really isn't enough difference, he asserted, to be noticeable to the average player. Machine testing and actual play over a two or three month period have indicated the tennis balls made of used rubber are satisfactory in most cases, according to Icely.

Plenty of Service
The service period of a tennis ball depends considerably on several factors—caliber of the player, type of surface on the court used, whether used in singles or in doubles, and whether played by men or women, or in mixed groups.

Last year's tennis ball lasted anywhere from five sets of play up. Several new type balls have been played by Bobby Riggs for as many as 150 games, at which time the balls were still playable.

For a few games, the reclaim balls show a little less life in the bounce compared with balls made from new rubber.

It is due to the fact that a thicker ball wall has been made necessary because chemical reprocessing weakens the rubber, and also to the fact that, because the rubber is weaker, the air pressure in the ball must be diminished.

But, the balls "warm up" quickly. Friction from bouncing off racquets and court heats the air within the ball. The air expands; then, because of the thicker ball wall, the reclaims become slightly more lively than new balls.

Goshen Track Ready For Hambeltonian Wednesday

By The Associated Press
GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 11—Goshen's Good Time park opens today with a trotting and racing card that merely awakens the spectators for Wednesday's twentieth running of the $40,000 Hambeltonian.

Today's inaugural features the $4,000 Arthur S. Tompkins Memorial which has attracted a field of 13 two-year-old trotters.

Two-year-old pacers also go to work out today in the Langhorne purse where King's Counsel, the Adios will renew their rivalry.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 11—The Charleston Senators moved forward today on the Atlantic pennant road.

They blanked the Zanesville Cubs last night, 2 to 0, registering their thirteenth shutout of the season.

Second-place Dayton had little trouble with neighboring Springfield, winning 7 to 4. Dayton posted Eric 2 to 1, although T. Paganotto, Sailor pitcher, gave up only five hits.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—If the Dodgers get involved in any more feuds, they'll have to change the name of Ebbets Field to the "Dust-Off Bowl".

Records of the Hambeltonian support the contention the favorites nearly always win trotting-horse races, but we wonder if that isn't because the folks who follow the trotters know more about horses than the frequenters of runner-horse parks.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

THE apparently old man made quick work of his departure, and had left the restaurant almost before his waiter, patently under the influence of a munificent tip, had finished bowing him away.

"Look at what you've done to Olinia and me!" Mary said. "Here we were about to shoot crabs to see who would snuff the prize—each having visions of being an old man's darling, and here you nail him and snatch him from under our very noses."

"Just a love pirate, that's our Auntie Maggie," she rattled on. "There's nothing certain; Lina and I will never take you along as a chaperone again, will we Lina?"

"No, indeed," Lina answered mechanically. Noting that she was distinctly distrustful, I wondered if anything about the bizarre old masquerade had stirred memories.

Redfield Relieved

True, she said Mary's foolery the tribute of a smile, Redfield's laugh was hearty and genuine. He plainly was so relieved that the episode had ended without calling on him for any protective action, that his spirits were at zenith.

But Olinia's were just as palpably at nadir. She spoke rarely during the rest of the time we spent at the restaurant and was silent during our journey back to the hotel.

Stephen Redfield left us as we entered the elevator, and when we reached my floor Olinia pleaded fatigue and went on to the top floor, where her stepfather, Philip Veritoren, owner of the Lansford, maintained the most luxurious apartment in the hotel. For use whenever he wanted to be nearer his offices than he would be in his beautiful appointed home.

Mary waited until we had left the care of the elevator operator behind, then broke into wondering but low-voiced comment.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, Aug. 12, THE ASTRAL AUGURIES for this day may be read as generally propitious and encouraging in all the affairs, business as well as social, domestic, sectional and in many branches of cultural activity. It may be found that superiors, employers and those in power are ready to assist all meritorious objectives, although it would be well to give proper consideration to any matters that come up for decision.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of progress and fulfilled ambitions in both business and private life. Intellectual and cultural affairs should be under splendid impetus for development, although a certain tendency toward doubt, indecision and confusion should be taken in hand for concentration, direct action and well-organized effort. Also the incentive to substitute expediency for principle should be suppressed. In worthy aims employers, superiors and higher-ups are ready to give encouragement.

A child born on this day should be versatile and ambitious, with much intellectual and cultural talent, although disposed to attain its ends in the easiest way.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN GLENDENING, M.D.

Conjunctivitis

A form of conjunctivitis, or pink eye, which occurs seasonally and epidemically, appears to be on the increase in North America. It has been named vernal conjunctivitis, but while vernal refers to spring, cases occur between May and early September. None are ever reported as being due to the fall or winter months—at least on this continent. In Italy it is especially common, and in Turkey and India it is reported as beginning in January and February.

Besides its seasonal incidence, it is distinguished by the fact that there is a family tendency for close relatives to be affected. This is not due to cross infection because there are instances of brother and sister living in different cities who have both come down with the inflammation in the same season.

Burning itching of the eyelids is intense and there is persistent itching aggravated by a warm and humid atmosphere. There is also a plentiful and almost continuous secretion of tears and aversion to light which aggravates the burning and itching sensations.

After the first attack it has a tendency to return every season for a while, although in nearly every instance it wears itself out. But one report mentions a person who had it every season for 23 years and another for 21, although as indicated above these are the exceptions.

Oculists have about guessed themselves dry as to the cause. It is almost certainly not a germ infection because the secretions have been examined time after time by every known bacteriological method and no germs have been found.

It would appear to be some form of allergy, the hay fever. The seasonal and family incidence points to this, as does the fact that the cells which are found in the secretion (eosinophiles) are the same as found in the secretion of hay fever patients and increase in the blood of allergy patients. But if it is an allergy, nobody has yet found the allergen that causes it—plant pollen, animal food or dust. It might be a physical allergy due to light and heat.

In treatment the remedies that relieve allergy patients relieve it—epinephrine and ephedrine drops in the eyes.

Brazil has prohibited exportation of motor vehicles and machinery that cannot be utilized by Brazilian industry.
